

April 13, 1990

Dear jimmy and Vickie:

It takes me awhile to get started on my letter when I use the computer, but maybe I will get used to it if I write more letters. I have mailed your birthday card, Jimmy, and I didn't send you a birthday present because I didn't send one to Vickie for her birthday but next year I will do better. Cindy is feeling much better and came home from the hospital the third day as the I, V, was removed then, and the stitches were removed yesterday from under her eye and from ear to ear across the hairline the cut was stapled. Jeannie is feeling much better since she returned from Arkansas and Aunt Stella is feeling better also.

I am having a lot of trouble with this letter and I have to keep calling Dad down to help me so I will stop for now as I am worn out and Dad can finish eating his breakfast.

Love,

Mom

Computer screen